Recap of last game:

In the final game of the regular season the Whitecaps lost to the Mariners 2-1. The 'Caps were already locked into the two seed but with a win could have dropped Harwich down to the three seed. Early on the Mariners scraped a couple runs across. A couple of walks and a Tyler Smolinski double spurred the early scoring. From there the seven inning affair turned into a major pitching duel. It took until the sixth inning for Brewster to get a hit. In the seventh the 'Caps made it interesting loading the bases with no one out. But Brewster could only claw one run back and lost 2-1. Despite Brewster outscoring Harwich 29-6 over the season series the 'Caps won just three of the five games against the Mariners.

SO WE MEET AGAIN:

The Whitecaps and Mariners have faced five times since July 3rd, the most of any two teams in that stretch. What's more, the 'Caps faced off against the Mariners in the first round of the playoffs just last season. The Whitecaps lost the series 2-1, losing games one and three on the road and winning game two at home. It's the first time since '17-'18 the Whitecaps have faced the same team in the first round of the playoffs in back-to-back years, the other being the Y-D Red Sox. The Whitecaps have not lost in the first round as the higher seed since 2015 vs Y-D, Manager Shevchik's first year.

2025 SUMMARY:

The Whitecaps wrapped up the 2025 regular season with their most wins since 2021 (22) and just their third 20-win season in the Jamie Shevchik era (others: 2015 & 2017). 61 players appeared in at least one game this past summer for the 'Caps - 27 position players, 34 pitchers - nearly 20% more players than the 2024 summer. Brewster's season began with a franchise-best 6-0 start, and the Whitecaps had the most wins in the league at the All-Star Break (15). The Whitecaps earned the three-seed in the East and a first-round matchup with the two-seeded Harwich Mariners. Brewster's season came to a close in a two games to one series loss.

CONSISTENT 'CAPS:

The Whitecaps have not lost more than two games in a row all season and have not won more than four in a row. Coming into today's contest the 'Caps have lost two straight and four of their last five. The worst five-game stretch of the season.
